DEAR MR SIDDHARTH LANKE

I am writing this letter of recommendation to confirm your invaluable contribution at Jim Dandy Events. I have had the pleasure of working closely with you for over 1 year (since 1st December, 2022) and am pleased to offer my highest recommendation for your outstanding contributions and exceptional skills in event management. Your dedication and passion for people management have been truly impressive, especially considering your background in engineering.

Throughout your time with us, you actively participated in organizing and executing ten major weddings. Your determination to overcome your introverted tendencies by immersing yourself in the events industry has been inspiring. Your willingness to put yourself in uncomfortable situations to foster personal growth speaks volumes about your character and resilience.

Your punctuality, politeness, and hard work have consistently stood out. You have shown an exceptional ability to learn quickly and remain calm under pressure, which is invaluable in our industry. Your composed demeanor and ability to handle unexpected challenges with grace have set you apart as a reliable and effective team member.

Your sincerity and proactive attitude have made a significant impact on our team. You are a go-getter, always ready to go above and beyond to ensure success. I am confident that these qualities will serve you well in any future endeavors you choose to pursue.

It has been a pleasure working with you, Siddharth. I have no doubt that you will be an asset to any organization you join. I wish you all the best in your future career and personal growth.

Sincerely,

Sona Walvekar
